Notes about Bass Strait Passenger Vehicle Equalisation Scheme – King Island

About the scheme

The aim of the scheme is to reduce the cost of transporting passenger vehicles across Bass Strait. The scheme provides a rebate against the freight rate charged, by a ferry operator, for the transportation of an eligible passenger vehicle.

The Australian Government's Bass Strait Passenger Vehicle Equalisation Scheme (BSPVES) – King Island operates under a set of Directions approved by the Minister for Infrastructure, Transport, Regional Development and Communications. The scheme is administered by Services Australia.

Eligibility requirements

The current King Island ferry service is unable to carry passengers. On this route, drivers of eligible vehicles receive the rebate if they travel on a direct commercial airline service between King Island and the Australian mainland, on or about the same date (generally accepted as within 14 days) that their vehicle is being transported by sea. Drivers must also travel in the same direction as their vehicles.

Eligible passenger vehicles are defined in the Ministerial Directions and include motor cars, buses, motorcycles, motorhomes, campervans and bicycles. Rebates also apply to caravans, including camper trailers, towed by eligible passenger vehicles.

Drivers of vehicles, other than motorcycles, receive the BSPVES rebate through a direct reduction in the gross freight rate charged by the King Island ferry service. As this service is currently not able to transport motorcycles, motorcyclists who are obliged to use freight forwarders must claim the rebate directly from Services Australia. See below for instructions on how to claim.

BSPVES rebates

The BSPVES rebate for motorcycles is reviewed annually. For current rates, go to infrastructure.gov.au

How to claim

A completed claim form, together with the supporting documentation requested on page 1, for example, copy of consignment note, copy of receipt for payment of freight, copy of airline ticket or boarding pass should be forwarded to Services Australia, Tasmanian Transport Schemes.

Payment will be made to the bank account specified by the claimant.
