

Having a baby, adopting or caring for a child younger than one? Claim online!

Get started

If you're a new Centrelink customer, you'll need a Customer Reference Number (CRN) before you can start your claim.

You can establish your identity and get a CRN online, using myGov. To find out how, go to servicessaustralia.gov.au/identity

If you already have your CRN and have confirmed your identity, you're good to go!

Save time, claim online

You can start the claim process as early as 3 months before the expected date of your child's birth or adoption.

To make an early claim, just follow these simple steps:

- 1 Access your myGov account – Sign into your myGov account. If you don't have one, create one at my.gov.au and use your CRN to link your Centrelink online account.
- 2 Start your claim – From the homepage of your Centrelink online account, select Make a claim or view claim status, then select Make a claim. Select Get started from the Families menu. Select Apply for Family Assistance Payments (including Paid Parental Leave).
- 3 Complete and submit your claim – Answer the questions about your situation. You'll then need to review and confirm the details in your claim.
- 4 Provide proof of birth – Once your child arrives, provide their proof of birth or adoption. You can do this using your Centrelink online account through myGov by selecting Add newborn child or through the Express Plus Centrelink mobile app by selecting Add child.
- 5 We'll assess your claim – We'll get in touch with you to let you know the outcome.

Australian Government

Services
Australia

Payments

These are the main payments that families may be eligible for if you have a baby, adopt a child or a child younger than one comes into care.

Family Tax Benefit

A 2 part payment to help with the cost of raising children. Family Tax Benefit Part A is paid per child and the amount you get is based on your family's circumstances. Family Tax Benefit Part B provides extra assistance to single parents, grandparent carers, other non-parent carers, and some coupled families with one main income earner.

Parental Leave Pay

Parental Leave Pay can help you if you're taking time off work to care for a newborn or recently adopted child. If you aren't the parent, or the parent's partner, you can only get Parental Leave Pay in exceptional circumstances.

Parental Leave Pay is paid at the rate of the national minimum wage. If eligible your family could get up to either:

- 100 days (20 weeks) for children born or adopted on or after 1 July 2023.
- 110 days (22 weeks) for children born or adopted on or after 1 July 2024.

Newborn Upfront Payment and Newborn Supplement

A lump sum payment and an increase to your Family Tax Benefit Part A for up to 13 weeks. You may get it if you have a baby, adopt a child or a child younger than one comes into care. You must also not be getting Parental Leave Pay for the same child.

More information

If you're having a baby, see our handy checklists at servicesaustralia.gov.au/havingababy

If you're adopting a child, go to servicesaustralia.gov.au/adopting

